

UNIVERSITY WRITING PROGRAM

2007-2008 UNIT 18 LECTURER SEARCH

The UC Davis University Writing Program invites applications for full-time Lecturers able to teach a wide range of writing courses, primarily at the upper-division level. We are especially interested in applicants experienced in teaching writing in the sciences, business and technical writing, legal writing, writing in the health professions, and writing in the academic disciplines. Ph.D. or other appropriate terminal degree required, except in cases where exceptional professional experience may be considered the equivalent.

One-year appointments (with possibility of renewal)* beginning in the 2007-2008 academic year. Teaching load: 7 courses over 3 quarters. Starting salary: $39,096, with benefits. Number of positions contingent on funding. Interviews by telephone, at CCCC, and/or on the campus.

Please send letter of application, CV, sample course materials, and three letters of recommendation to Chris Thaiss, Lecturer Search Chair, University Writing Program, University of California, One Shields Avenue, Davis, CA 95616-8581. We will begin reading applications November 15, 2006, and positions will remain open until filled.

The University of California is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer with a strong institutional commitment to the achievement of diversity among its faculty and staff.
