

UNIVERSITY WRITING PROGRAM

PART-TIME LECTURER POSITIONS

WINTER AND SPRING QUARTERS 2007

The UC Davis University Writing Program invites applications for part-time Lecturers able to teach writing courses at the upper-division level. We are especially interested in applicants experienced in teaching advanced composition, writing in the sciences, business and technical writing, legal writing, writing in the health professions, and writing in the academic disciplines. Ph.D. or other appropriate terminal degree required, except in cases where exceptional professional experience may be considered the equivalent.

Please send letter of application and CV via email to cjthaiss@ucdavis.edu. Send sample course materials and letters of recommendation via regular mail to Chris Thaiss, Part-time Lecturer Search, University Writing Program, University of California, One Shields Avenue, Davis, CA 95616-8581.

Application letters due October 30, 2006. These positions will remain open until filled.

The University of California is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer with a strong institutional commitment to the achievement of diversity among its faculty and staff.

New lecturers will join an independent writing program with an established emphasis on writing in the disciplines and professions. The University Writing Program publishes the award-winning journal Writing on the Edge and enjoys the support of Davis's renowned programs in the sciences, environmental studies, agriculture, and engineering, plus close ties with the arts and humanities. Located in Northern California's rich Central Valley, adjacent to Sacramento and within easy driving distance of the Bay Area and the Sierras, UC Davis offers a superb, diverse educational environment. Website: <http://www.ucdavis.edu>.